

LEMBAR SOAL
ASESMEN SUMATIF TENGAH SEMESTER
SMA PANGUDI LUHUR SEDAYU
TAHUN PELAJARAN 2024/2025

Mata Pelajaran : Bahasa Inggris Lanjut
Kelas / Program :

Hari / Tanggal :
Waktu : 0 menit

Perhatikan soal dengan baik dan jawablah sesuai ketentuan !

1. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Which of the following is the BEST definition of a fact?

- A. A statement that sounds convincing
- B. A claim made by an authority figure
- C. A personal feeling or judgment about something
- D. A statement that someone strongly believes is true
- E. A statement that can be proven true through objective evidence or direct observation

KUNCI : E

Pembahasan

2. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Identify the OPINION in the following set of statements:

- A. Humans need oxygen to survive
- B. Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius at sea level
- C. Mount Everest is the highest mountain on Earth
- D. The Great Wall of China is over 13,000 miles long
- E. Chocolate ice cream is the most delicious flavour of ice cream

KUNCI : E

Pembahasan

3. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Which characteristic distinguishes an opinion from a fact? (distinguishes = yang membedakan)

- A. The potential for personal bias or emotional judgment
- B. The use of complex vocabulary
- C. The source of the information
- D. The length of the statement
- E. The number of words used

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

4. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

In the sentence "Classical music is the most sophisticated form of musical expression", what makes this statement an opinion?

- A. It uses the word "most"
- B. It is about classical music
- C. It uses complex language
- D. It describes a type of music
- E. It involves a subjective judgment about musical quality

KUNCI : E

Pembahasan

5. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Which of the following would help you determine if a statement is a fact?

- A. Asking your friends if they agree
- B. Listening to someone's passionate explanation
- C. Checking if it makes you feel strongly about something
- D. Reading a statement in a book without checking its accuracy
- E. Verifying the information through reliable sources and evidence

KUNCI : E

Pembahasan

6. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

The Titanic was a ship that sunk in 1912 when it hit an iceberg.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

7. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

The movie Titanic was the best movie I've ever seen.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

8. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

Training wheels help new bicycle riders learn to ride until they get their balance.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

9. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

Training wheels are too babyish for older bicycle riders.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

10. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

Governments should not use the death penalty to punish criminals.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

11. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

An office desk has 400 times more bacteria than a toilet.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

12. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

John F. Kennedy's rocking chair was sold for $453,500.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

13. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

Soccer is a much more interesting game to play than golf.

- A. Fact B. Opinion

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

14. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

One study shows that heart attack survivors who have pets live longer than those who do not.

A. Fact

B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

15. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Choose whether the sentence is a FACT or an OPINION

The Nile River splits into the White Nile and Blue Nile in Sudan.

A. Fact

B. Opinion

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

16. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The followings are types of relational process verbs, except

A. Intensive

D. Intentional

B. Possessive

E. Circumstantial

C. Functional

KUNCI : D

Pembahasan

17. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Maria seems extremely intelligent.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

A. seems - intentional

B. seems - possessive

C. intelligent - intentional

D. intelligent - possessive

E. extremely - circumstantial

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

18. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The sculpture is a masterpiece.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

A. is - intentional

B. the - intentional

C. a - circumstantial

D. sculpture - possessive

E. masterpiece - circumstantial

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

19. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

He looks tired after the long journey.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

A. after - possessive

B. looks - intentional

C. long - circumstantial

D. tired - circumstantial

E. journey - circumstantial

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

20. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

This problem remains complicated.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

A. this - intentional

B. remains - intentional

C. problem - possessive

D. problem - circumstantial

E. complicated - possessive

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

21. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The new employee became the team leader.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|
| A. the new - circumstantial | D. became - intentional |
| B. employee - intentional | E. leader - possessive |
| C. the team - possessive | |

KUNCI : D

Pembahasan

22. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The company ... three international branches.

Which relational process is best to complete the sentence?

- | | |
|--------|-------------|
| A. is | D. belongs |
| B. has | E. has been |
| C. was | |

KUNCI : B

Pembahasan

23. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

My grandmother owns a vintage collection of rare books.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

- | |
|--------------------------------|
| A. owns - possessive |
| B. owns - intentional |
| C. collection - intentional |
| D. vintage - circumstantial |
| E. collection - circumstantial |

KUNCI : A

Pembahasan

24. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The research team possesses extensive knowledge about climate change.

Which word in the sentence is the relational process verb and what is the type?

- | | |
|--------------|--------------|
| A. research | D. knowledge |
| B. extensive | E. change |
| C. possesses | |

KUNCI : C

Pembahasan

25. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

How much did Megan weigh when she began her weight loss journey?

A. 211 pounds	D. 300 pounds
B. 311 pounds	E. 275 pounds
C. 250 pounds

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

26. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What health issues was Megan experiencing before her weight loss?

- A. Broken bones and muscle pain
- B. Headaches, dizziness, and heart palpitations
- C. Respiratory problems and chronic fatigue
- D. Vision issues and joint pain
- E. Severe allergies and skin conditions

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

27. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What motivated Megan to start her weight loss journey?

- A. A doctor's strict recommendation
- B. A severe dizzy spell and headache
- C. A reality TV show about weight loss
- D. A wedding she wanted to attend
- E. A competition at work

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

28. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What was Megan's diet like before her lifestyle change?

- A. Strictly organic and home-cooked meals
- B. Vegetarian with minimal processed foods
- C. Fast food and microwave meals with large pasta portions
- D. Strictly vegan diet
- E. Exclusively restaurant meals

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

29. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What health risks did Megan's doctor identify?

- A. High risk of cancer and heart disease
- B. Severe respiratory issues
- C. High risk of diabetes, low vitamin D, and high cholesterol
- D. Kidney and liver problems
- E. Chronic inflammation and autoimmune disorders

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

30. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable.

I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight.

Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

How much weight did Megan lose by February 2014?

- | | |
|--------------|--------------|
| A. 20 pounds | D. 50 pounds |
| B. 30 pounds | E. 60 pounds |
| C. 40 pounds | |

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

31. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

Which exercise class became Megan's absolute favourite?

A. Zumba
B. Pilates
C. Cardio Sculpt
D. Bootcamp
E. Kickboxing

KUNCI : E
Pembahasan

32. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more it and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What significant change did people notice about Megan besides her weight loss?

- A. Her hair colour
- B. Her clothing style
- C. She looked taller and more confident
- D. Her makeup techniques
- E. Her skin complexion

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

33. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable.

I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight.

Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more fit and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

How did Megan approach her meal preparation after her lifestyle change?

- A. She stopped cooking entirely
- B. She ate only pre-packaged meals
- C. She cooked nearly every night and planned all meals
- D. She hired a personal chef
- E. She followed a strict liquid diet

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

34. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:

An Inspiring Story of Healthy Living

My weight loss journey began in June 2013. I was 311 pounds at 25 years old. I was experiencing headaches, dizziness, heart palpitations and general discomfort. My day-to-day life was fairly miserable. I was slow to move, often feeling run down and sick. Every day when I got home from work, I immediately went to lay down because I was so tired. My eating habits at the time were very poor. I was basically living off of fast food and microwave meals. When I did cook, it was large portions of pasta. I was not exercising other than the occasional walk around the block.

One night, I felt so dizzy and had such a severe headache that I contemplated driving to the ER. I thought something must be seriously wrong. I called my parents in a panic, and my dad came to pick me up. When I got to their house, the three of us had a discussion about my weight. I was right: something WAS seriously wrong, and that was my weight. Although my parents and I had similar conversations in the past, this time was different. This time I decided I really did want to change. I no longer wanted to feel miserable and uncomfortable. I wanted to live freely, healthy and happy. I met with my doctor who ran a series of blood tests and determined that I was at a high risk for diabetes, my vitamin D level was severely low, and my cholesterol level was too high. She recommended that I join a gym to get a kick start on my exercise. I joined a gym that was close to work so that I could go in the mornings. I started slowly... when I first joined the gym I could only do 3 minutes on the elliptical.

I also started to count my calories and watch my portion sizes, carbs, and sodium. By February, I had lost about 40 pounds. In February 2014 I had to change jobs, and with that I had to change gyms. After looking at several gyms in the area, I decided to join the Birmingham YMCA. The staff was friendly and knowledgeable. I met with a personal trainer on one of my first visits and explained my weight loss journey so far. She recommended different exercises and classes for me to do. The Y is where I fell in love with group exercises classes. Previously, I had been too afraid to go to classes, worried that my weight would set me apart from other class members and that I wouldn't be able to keep up. But the Y has helped me to gain confidence, and I've done Zumba, Cardio Sculpt, Pilates, Bootcamp and Kickboxing classes. Kickboxing is my absolute favourite workout. Each of the trainers at the Y have really embraced me and helped me to become stronger, more it and more confident. I continue to count my calories and am careful about what I eat. I cook nearly every night and plan all of my meals. It takes time, but it's worth it.

I have lost a total of 90 lbs and I am down 5 pant sizes. Although it has taken me a while, I am so proud of what I have been able to accomplish. I have hit many plateaus along the way that have stalled my progress, but the trainers at the Y are always available for me to talk to and to learn from to get through the plateaus. They push me but they do not judge me. They encourage me and support me. I also love working out with other members at the Y and being able to encourage each other through our journeys. I feel comfortable at the Y, I feel at home.

When I run into someone I haven't seen in a while, one of their first comments is not necessarily about my weight itself, but they say "you look so much taller!" Previously, I was almost constantly hunched over. It was difficult to carry all that weight around, and even more difficult to do it with confidence. But now, I am not only leaner and able to carry myself stronger and taller, but I am more confident and happy with my body. That change has made all the difference.

What total weight loss did Megan achieve?

- | | |
|--------------|---------------|
| A. 60 pounds | D. 100 pounds |
| B. 75 pounds | E. 50 pounds |
| C. 90 pounds | |

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

35. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
Which of the following is an example of a physical action verb?
- | | |
|-------------|----------------|
| A. Consider | D. Believe |
| B. Imagine | E. Contemplate |
| C. Run | |

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

36. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
In the sentence "She contemplates her next move", the verb is an example of a:
- | | |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| A. Physical action verb | D. Helping verb |
| B. Thinking verb | E. Linking verb |
| C. Emotional verb | |

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

37. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
The verb "analyze" is best classified as a:
- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------------|
| A. Physical action verb | D. Auxiliary verb |
| B. Thinking verb | E. Transitive verb |
| C. Descriptive verb | |

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

38. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
Which sentence contains an action verb?
A. She seems happy
B. The dog appears tired
C. He ran quickly
D. They look confused
E. It sounds loud

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

39. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
Which of these is NOT a thinking verb?
A. Calculate
B. Deduce
C. Climb
D. Evaluate
E. Investigate

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

40. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
The verb "consider" is best described as a:
A. Physical action verb
B. Thinking verb
C. Linking verb
D. Helping verb
E. Descriptive verb

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

41. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
Which sentence demonstrates a pure action verb?
A. He thinks deeply about the problem
B. She jumps over the fence
C. They contemplate the situation
D. I wonder about the answer
E. We believe in the solution

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

42. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
A group of scientists is observing some meteors found by a local farmer at the central laboratory.
Which word from the sentence is a thinking verb?
A. observing
B. found
C. scientists
D. local
E. laboratory

KUNCI : A
Pembahasan

43. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
The young woman talked so softly that it confused everybody.
What kind of verbs is found in the sentence above?
A. Action verb
B. Thinking verb
C. Action and thinking verb
D. There is not any verb in the sentence

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan

44. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA
Pertanyaan:
Supporting data in an analytical exposition is called
A. Thesis
B. Argument
C. Reiteration
D. Conclusion
E. Recommendation

KUNCI : B
Pembahasan

45. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Restatement of writer's opinion is called

- A. Thesis

B. Closing

C. Argument
- D. Reiteration

E. Recommendation

KUNCI : D
Pembahasan

46. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

Writing opinion about an issue/ topic is called

- A. Thesis

B. Closing

C. Arguments
- D. Conclusion

E. Giving recommendation

KUNCI : A
Pembahasan

47. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

The purpose of Analytical Exposition is

- A. to amuse the reader

B. to entertain the reader

C. to describe the particular object

D. to give information for the audience

E. to persuade the reader to look at an issue

KUNCI : E
Pembahasan

48. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

A text that elaborates the writer's idea about a certain phenomenon is called

- A. Narrative text

B. Procedure text

C. Descriptive text
- D. Hortatory Exposition text

E. Analytical Exposition text

KUNCI : E
Pembahasan

49. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

What is the generic structure of analytical exposition text?

- A. Goal - Materials - Methods

B. Reiteration - Argument - Thesis

C. Title - Identification - Description

D. Thesis - Arguments - Reiteration

E. Head - Body of content - Informing sender

KUNCI : D
Pembahasan

50. Tipe Soal: PILIHAN GANDA

Pertanyaan:

What tense is used in analytical exposition text?

- A. Future Tense

B. Perfect Tense

C. Present Tense
- D. Simple Past Tense

E. Past Continuous Tense

KUNCI : C
Pembahasan